

Cascade Clamp

Cascade Clamp - Cascade Manufacturing Company was founded in Portland, Oregon in 1943. They began as a small machine shop in the beginning employing four people. Sales for their first year of operation totaled $60,000. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless steel pipe fittings, valves and other components. During 5 years of operation, the business had stretched to forty workers and their yearly sales volume had increased to 330 thousand dollars. Now, Cascade is among the top global makers in the material handling industry.

Design and manufacturing of the company's original hydraulic cylinder allowed this new company to aggressively engage in better business possibilities. Throughout the last sixty years, the business of material handling has developed into a very sophisticated field with Cascade proudly playing a part in its development. Cascade presently continues to develop as the leader provider of lift truck attachments and different related products. The business feels assured in their skill to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding buyer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive in the global market.

During the nineteen fifties, Cascade started to fabricate, design, and promote its hydraulic accessories. A brand new facility was made in 1956, so as to accommodate all plant offices and operations in Portland, Oregon, which remains to be the company's current center of operations. Subsequent to 15 years of business, total staff reached 180 employees and sales had reached nearly two million three hundred thousand dollars.

1959 in Springfield, Salem the next manufacturing facility was built. nineteen sixty marked Cascade's initial move into the global world of the material handling industry while the company recognized interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

In 1964, the company changed its name to the Cascade Corporation. Afterward in 1965, the business went public with a preliminary offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. Ever since then the company has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the continental US to the areas Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already current plants in Portland, Oregon and Springfield, Salem. Cascade merchandise are manufactured worldwide because of many subsidiary operations. In the year 1944, a brand new plant was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European headquarters. This facility is made to be the essential customer support centre.

Continuing to grow, Cascade expanded their product offering further in the year 1996 and the year 1997 with the impressive acquisition of five companies, together with the worldwide leader in forks, the Kenhar Corporation.
